NSTP Compilation of Activities

(Academic Year: 2024-202

Submitted by:

Jhepherson E. Bannister

First Year BSIT

FB1 - BSIT1 - 02

PHINMA Cagayan De Oro College

Submitted to:

Sean Love Fame Eugenio

NST Adviser

Date of Submission: 03 / 31 / 2025

Table Of Contents

I. INTRODUCTION / BIO

II. RESUME

III. SAMPLE OF WORKS

- A. DRUG EDUCATION
- B. HIV AWARENESS
- C. LINIS LIKOD BAHAY
- D. TREE - PLANTING

IV. REFLECTION

V. CONCLUSION / CLOSING

VI. REFERENCES - Available upon request

INTRODUCTION / BIO

My name is Jhepherson E. Bannister, a First Year IT Student who aims to become a software developer someday. This portfolio showcases my active participation in the NSTP program, highlighting projects focused on community engagement and social responsibility. From spearheading drug education initiatives through impactful collage work to raising HIV awareness with symbolic red ribbons, my contributions demonstrate a commitment to making a difference. I also participated in environmental projects, including a recycled art project using plastic bottles and a long-term tree-planting initiative.

CONTACT

64+ 975 311 3497

jhephersonbannister101@gmail.com

Block-14 House- 23, Zone 4, Phase 1 , Pagatpat ,CDOC, 9000

https://www.linkedin.com/in/jhepherson-e-bannister-0642b2358

TECHNICAL SKILLS

- Basic Graphic Design
- Basic Programming
- Project Management

CORE SKILLS

- Teamwork
- Interpersonal Skills
- Hardworking
- Problem Solving
- Adaptability
- Patience

Jhepherson Bannister

FIRST YEAR COLLEGE STUDENT

PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

A highly organized and proactive programming student with excellent communication skills and a strong work ethic. Proven ability to collaborate effectively within team environments, contributing meaningfully to project success. Proficient in Java, HTML, and Python.

EDUCATION

Consolacion Elementary School
- From Grade 1 to Grade 6 (2012-2018)

Pagatpat National Highschool(Junior 2019 - 2022)
- From Grade 7 to Grade 10

Pagatpat National Highschool(Senior 2022 - 2024)
- Grade 11 and Grade 12 Student

PHINMA COC (2024 - Present)
- First Year College

ACHIEVEMENTS

- Grade 11 High Honors (1st Sem)
- 1st Runner up in Mr. & Ms. Intramurals
- Best in Uniform in Mr. & Ms. Intramurals
- 2nd Runner up Badminton Tournament (Double)
- Grade 12 High Honors (Whole Sem)

PROJECTS

- Hotel Reservation Management System
- Recycling Plastic Bottles into Trash Bins

ACTIVITIES

- Volunteering in Barangay Cyberbullying Awareness Program
- Volunteering in Barangay Street Cleaning

Narrative Report On Drug Education

Name: Jhepherson E. Bannister

Section: FB1-IT1-02

- Date made: February 27, 2025

- Role: The one who printed and suggested the template.

- Experience: From this project, i learned about drug education by raising awareness and how it affects our community and health.
- Impact: Our collage about drug education will help our community by raising awareness among youth about the dangers of drug misuse. It’s a powerful way to share important information and encourage healthy choices.

- Message to the youth: Education is your strongest weapon against drug abuse. Learn the facts, make smart decisions, and build a healthy future for yourselves.

Spreading HIV Awareness

Name: Jhepherson E. Bannister

Section: FB1-IT1-02

- Date made: February 27, 2025

National Service Training Program

Linis Likod Bahay Activity

Name: Jhepherson E. Bannister Name of Adviser: Sean Love Fame Eugenio

Section: FB1-IT1-02 Date: March 14, 2025

March 14, 2025 – Today, I discovered a sack full of small plastic bottles hidden at the back of our house. They had been sitting there for a long time, and my parents were unsure what to do with them. Instead of letting them go to waste, I felt inspired to take action and find a way to repurpose or recycle the bottles. I saw this as an opportunity to turn a problem into a solution, using my creativity to give these plastic bottles a new life and contribute positively to the environment.

National Service Training Program

TREE-PLANTING Activity

Name of Student: Jhepherson E. Bannister Love Fame Eugenio

Name of Adviser: Sean

Section: FB1-IT1-02

Date: March 21, 2025

October 29, 2024 –

Today, my mother and I were walking home when I stumbled upon a small branch of a plant. I didn't know what kind of plant it was, but it still looked alive, with green scratches on it. I asked my mother what it was, and she said that from the look of the branch, it seemed like a medicinal plant. That's why I decided to grow it so we can use it in the future. Dili lang kini basta usa ka sanga, kundi usa ka paglaum alang sa panglawas ug kaayohan. Gipaningkamotan namo nga mabuhi kini, nga mahimong gamiton sa umaabot. It wasn't just about finding a branch, it was about discovering potential, nurturing life, and preparing for the future. Holding that small branch, even in its fragility, was a powerful reminder that small discoveries, nurtured with care, can yield great results.

REFLECTION

My NSTP experience proved to be a significant period of skill development. The projects, while diverse, all demanded a core set of abilities. The drug education collage, for example, required not only artistic skill but also strategic thinking in conveying complex information visually. This pushed me to research effective communication strategies and consider the target audience carefully. Similarly, the HIV awareness campaign demanded confident public speaking and the ability to handle sensitive topics with tact and empathy. I learned to adapt my communication style to different settings and audiences. The recycled art project challenged my problem-solving skills, forcing me to think creatively about resource utilization and waste reduction. Finally, the tree-planting initiative highlighted the importance of long-term commitment and teamwork, teaching me the value of perseverance and collaboration in achieving a shared goal. These experiences have significantly enhanced my practical skills and broadened my understanding of effective communication, community engagement, and environmental stewardship.

CONCLUSION

The NSTP program has been transformative, and this portfolio reflects the significant personal and community impact of my participation. Through diverse projects requiring creative problem-solving, collaborative teamwork, and effective communication, I've not only contributed to positive change within my community but also developed valuable skills applicable to a wide range of future endeavors. The experience has fostered a strong sense of social responsibility and a commitment to making a difference. This journey has equipped me with the skills and the determination to pursue opportunities where I can continue contributing meaningfully to society.

REFERENCE

My NSTP project supervisors are available to provide feedback on my performance and contributions to the various projects outlined in this portfolio. Contact information can be provided upon request.